In 1977, Debby Boone earned instant fame when “You Light Up My Life” became one of the biggest songs in history. Charting #1 on Billboard for ten straight weeks, the album sold in excess of four million copies. She received the Grammy for Best New Artist and has since received an additional seven Grammy nominations, winning two more. This holiday concert marks the 32nd anniversary of Debby’s album, Home For Christmas.

Debby has performed in many musical theater productions and is also an author of 6 children’s books. She continues to grow her reputation as a singer of the Great American Songbook, building on her previous recording, Reflections of Rosemary. The album is an intimate musical portrait of her late mother-in-law, the legendary singer Rosemary Clooney, for whom Debby had great love and respect. Debby’s 13th album, Swing This features songs from the golden era of Las Vegas when her father, Pat Boone, performed at the Sands and Sahara hotels. She is currently performing music live across the country.

Debby lives in Los Angeles with her husband, Gabriel Ferrer, who works as an Episcopal priest. They have four grown children, one son-in-law, one daughter in law, and three adorable grandchildren!
